Please remember in your prayers ... all those who are contending with health problems, including Jen Bocage, Donna Carter, and Darla Nelson who all are recovering from surgery last week, Colton Watson (daycare child where Becka Decker works) who was involved in a serious rock slide accident and is hospitalized, many others who are suffering without our knowing ... those whose marriages are struggling, that Christ would continue to show them his love and strengthen all spouses to show that love to one another ... Laila Salem, who will be baptized in our late service, that God would continue to bless the faith given to all the baptized ... our school, which is preparing to begin this fall with a record number of students for which God deserves our thanks and praise ... the seed of God's Word which he planted in the hearts of many people here this morning ... all who are not with us this morning, that God would continue to water and strengthen the seed of faith planted in them and bring them back to worship with us once again

MONDAY, AUGUST 15: SCHOOL ORIENTATION

NIGHT—6:30PM. We ask all school and preschool families to attend this very important meeting before school begins.

Next Sunday ... Jesus will continue using the analogy of a farmer, sowing seeds, and the crop it produces. Jesus will further distinguish the good crop from the weeds that grow alongside it. A gardener's first reaction is to quickly pull out the weeds so that the garden can grow without being hindered. But the farmer in Jesus' parable actually tells his servants to let the weeds grow with the wheat, because in weeding out the garden, they might also pull out some of the good wheat as well. Jesus likens this story to how believers and unbelievers live together in the same world and even in the same church. Our first reaction is to try and uproot these people from our church and our world. But Jesus reminds us that this is his work alone to do at the final harvest of Judgment Day. In the meantime, Jesus tells us to live as wheat among the weeds of this world and wait expectantly for that Last Day.
